Important! Russian Tour 2020 has been canceled!

I have the unfortunate duty is to inform you that this year's St. Petersburg Tour has been canceled due to a coronary virus declared a pandemic today. The decision to cancel the Tour was made today on Wednesday at 15:30 and therefore could not be announced earlier.

I will inform more about this soon in the near future. The information about returning of passports and the information of the costs associated with and incurred during the travel's preparation process will soon be available. Passports are currently at the consulate and the Visa application process cannot be interrupted without the costs already declared.

So I'll get back to you as soon as I get more information about travel's cancelling arrangements!

Sincerely
